Venue	Shree Swaminarayan College of Pharmacy
Participants	B. Pharm& Pharm.D students. Total :180 students

Event Objective:

Lecture focused on three essential topics for the students—career guidance in the pharmaceutical industry, methods to study without stress, and the importance of embracing cultural values to become a "real Indian.

The importance of setting realistic academic and personal goals, combined with a positive and resilient mindset, was emphasized as key to a successful student life

Event Description:

Mr. Oza discussed the diverse career opportunities available within the pharmaceutical industry, such as research, regulatory affairs, marketing, clinical trials, and more. He emphasized the importance of developing both technical expertise and soft skills, like communication, leadership, and adaptability, to thrive in today's competitive job market.

Mr. Oza shared his views on how cultural values, ethics, and integrity should play a vital role in shaping a student's professional and personal journey. He inspired students to take pride in their Indian heritage while striving for excellence, encouraging them to contribute to the nation's progress through their careers. Pharmacists, he noted, have a unique opportunity to impact public health, serving as key players in promoting the overall well-being of society.
